

Curriculum Vitae

Georg Lehner

16 de enero de 2005

* 21/11/1964

Primary School: 1971 – 1979 Linz/Austria

Technical Education/High School: Electronics and Telecommunication 1979 – 1984 Braunau/Austria

University: Technical physics, Linz/Austria. Not concluded

1985-1989 Maintenance and reparation of audio-visual appliances. Teacher in electronics laboratory. Quality control design and application in industrial electronics. Linz/Austria.

1989-1992 Teachers assistance and formation in industrial electronics. León/Nicaragua

1992-1995 Programmer for the RISC-Institute. Formation of adults in computation, telecommunication and electronics. Consulting and production of electronic equipment. Hard- and Software design for the quality control of industrial electronics.. Linz and Salzburg/Austria. Consulting in Nicaragua.

1995 First contacts con Linux and Free Software.

1996-2000 Assistance to the biomedical engineering department of the University Hospital in León/Nicaragua, on behalf of the german development service. Evaluation, planification and monitoring of other development project.

2001-2004 Consulting in electronics and computacion. Colaboration with the Online University “Campus Virtual” of the national engineering university UNI. Planification and partial execution of the ICT project UNI/ASDI/TIC. Chief of systems department at the ISP NetPort. Graduation workshops in Computer Sciences at Universidad Politecnica de Nicaragua - UPOLI/Managua. Participation in technical committees of the Internet (Providers) Association of Nicaragua/AIN. Supervision of several monographic projects about networking and computer sciences. Network redesign of the Ministry of Gobernation of Nicaragua and at Universidad Nacional Autónoma de Nicaragua/León. Local project coordinator for the italian cooperation in the project: “Proyecto de fortalecimiento técnico del Servicio Publico de Laboratorio Clinico y Terapia de Rehabilitación en el Departamento de León”.